I am a Union Electrician in the NYC building trades and have been a repeat client of Jaroslawicz & Jaros. I first meet Abe Jaros and David Jaroslawicz about 12 years ago. They were recommended to me by another electrician and I have since used their services twice.

The first case involved my near electrocution and fall from a ladder. The second time their services were required was when an unscrupulous contractor refused to give the right equipment for the job, thus resulting in a near fatal fall. "PROFITS OVER SAFETY."

Both cases were handled to my utmost satisfaction and I would highly recommend them to anyone, especially those in the construction trades.
