The truth is I don't think I can properly express my feelings in a letter but I'll try.

Each time I entered the law offices of Jaroslawicz & Jaros it resonated with trust, comfort, and above all personal attention. David and Abe, who are brothers and the principals of the firm, are the roots of a friendly & caring environment, I found everyone in the firm to be friendly and caring. Any time I talked with any of the staff they would inquire about my health, they empathized with me, were happy for me with every improvement, and offered to assist me in any way they could.

Watching the trial attorney that handled my trial, Bradley Sacks' was a phenomenon in it of itself. His brilliant trial skills were impressive and in recognition of the respect his abilities earned even the judge's clerks and court personnel came to the back to watch him! At some point it was just funny seeing the apparent shock in the doctor's faces, who were called as witnesses by the defense to minimize my injuries, and got them to even agree with our position with his cross-examination!

I would not hesitate to recommend anyone who is injured to be represented by your law firm. The care and time I was given is something I will always cherish and never forget. The personal relationship you have with each client, which I've personally witnessed, means the utmost interest and indulgence in each case.

I truly appreciate all you and your firm have done for me.

Respectfully yours,

AL S
